

Saving Campus Radio: Presenting and Preserving WAMU and WMUC

Join us for a lively and informative presentation on the audio history of the two most important campus radio stations in the D.C. metro area: American University's WAMU, and the University of Maryland's WMUC.

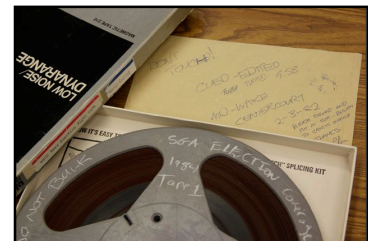

Andi Anderson, WMUC student DJ, 1965

Tom Willoughby,
WMUC student DJ, 1957

University of Maryland Sound Archivist and Ethnomusicologist Laura Schnitker will discuss the cultural relevance of campus radio, outline the histories of WAMU and WMUC and highlight salient aspects of both archival collections.

Digital Reformatting Specialist Eric Cartier, University of Maryland, will describe some of the challenges of preservation and access in working with a wide range of media formats. Fascinating audio treasures will be featured throughout.

Monday, June 17, 2013
7:00 P.M.

George Washington University
Phillips Hall
Room B-120 (Basement)

FREE AND OPEN TO THE PUBLIC

The nearest Metro stop to George Washington University is GWU-Foggy Bottom.
Details: (202) 413-3298. Sponsored by the Association for Recorded Sound Collections,
Washington Metropolitan Area Chapter